

WILL SPEAK FOR HUSBAND

Brilliant Margaret More Oliver to Stump District for Hubby Candidate

Brilliant Margaret More Oliver, who won renown in Socialist circles while a teacher here in the High School, has not let matrimony or motherhood dim her brilliance. She is to take the platform in behalf of Billy Oliver, incidentally her husband and principally candidate for Supervisor down in the Santa Cruz district, where they reside. The fact that she has a precocious infant of 16 weeks of age will not deter her from making the campaign for the man she is confident will make the best supervisor Santa Cruz county has ever had.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Oliver are college graduates and are now scientific agriculturists as well as politicians.

GLEN ELLEN CLUBDOM

The business meeting was held Friday, Aug. 11th, with twelve members present. Mrs. Lucy Ritzmoriel was voted in as a new member. The principal business before the club was a discussion of the grievances the Glen Ellen people want to bring before the Railroad Commission, which meets on the 18th of this month.

It was decided to circulate a petition protesting against the raise in rates by the Light and Telephone Company, and also against the poor service the company is giving. There was much discussion about the railroad crossing in Glen Ellen and it was decided to put the matter in the hands of the civic committee of the club and ask this committee to do all they can to have the crossing open, as the other crossing by the bridge is very dangerous. It was suggested that a petition be circulated to be presented to the commission and the railroad officials asking to have the crossing kept open for the convenience of the public.

A letter from Mrs. Ed. Payne was read inviting the club to meet at her home for the social meeting Aug. 25th. Mrs. Chase will give a talk on her work in Los Angeles with the immigrant children. Mrs. Brown will also address the club, and a young lady will entertain with a few vocal numbers. The club accepted the invitation with thanks, and a large attendance is expected.

HUMPHREY HILL PASSES AWAY

Humphrey Hill, pioneer Californian and old soldier, passed away in Oakland Wednesday at the venerable age of 88 years. He was an uncle of Robert P. Hill of Eldridge and resided here for many years.

Mr. Hill retained his faculties almost to the last and was a very interesting old gentleman. He at one time could have bought the present site of Alameda for a farm, but instead came to this valley and invested here.

The funeral took place Friday and was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Hill of Eldridge and other relatives.

ST. FRANCIS BENEFIT TONIGHT AT BOYES

The former successful benefit for St. Francis Church given at Boyes Springs Theater will be repeated tonight augmented by much clever talent. The vaudeville features, which made such a pronounced hit before, will again be on the program, intermingled with new specialties.

Mr. Gallagher and his wonderful dog will appear, and Bob Madison, candidate for the assembly, will exhibit some clever sleight of hand tricks. The latest songs and talented vocalists will be on the program also, and a big attendance is predicted, as the performance will be of high class and the cause is a worthy one.

Guest at Agua Caliente

Captain Johnson of the "Sierra" spent a few days at Agua Caliente Springs prior to the sailing of his ship to Australia. Johnson is a genuine sea faring man and has been sixteen years in the service of the J. D. Spreckels Company. He enjoyed his visit with Mr. and Mrs. Richards and praised the fine Hawaiian orchestra which is now a feature of the springs.

Placards are up announcing the appearance here the coming week of John F. Neylan chairman of the State Board of Control who will speak in behalf of Hiram Johnson who is running for U. S. Senator against Willis Booth the regular Republican. See what the Blue Book says about Neylan and you will understand it. "State Board of Control." "Appointed by the Governor." "Term at pleasure of the Governor." John Francis Neylan Chairman, Salary, $5,000. Nuf sed.

The local Elks who attended the big "doings" at Napa Wednesday evening report a royal time. There was an elaborate banquet and jinks under the talented direction of Leo McMahon and E. Phillips of Sacramento. The following drove over from here with Henry Bates at the wheel; Dr. Hays, R. Emparan, Sam Lewis, Wm. Kirby and Wm. Gowan.

PICETTI OUTLINES POLICY AT MEETING

Supervisory Candidate's Talk to Voters Elicits Great Interest at Rally Last Night--Interesting Address by J. D. Crane.

At a spirited rally in Union Hall last night John F. Picetti, candidate for Supervisor, held the attention of a large audience as he delineated his plan for the betterment of the First Supervisory District in the event of his election to the important office he seeks. Mr. Picetti made a pronounced impression on his hearers as he went into the old and new methods of doing things in the district, especially road building, and pointed out the advantage the methods he would employ would have in upbuilding the county and getting results for the taxpayers. He said in part:

"We all know that the time is coming when sooner or later we will have to make some changes in the present system of road building. The old system has worked itself out, and in fact it is only a political machine; some times we can call it the pork barrel and at other times the 'steam roller.' Most of us know how the machine works, but for the benefit of those who do not understand it I am going to take up a few minutes to explain it to you. We all know that the roadmaster today is taking a very big part in helping a candidate get elected to the office of Supervisor.

"The way it is done is that the candidate seeking an office in Sonoma county for Supervisor, before making his announcement, picks out five men whom he thinks will get him at least 50 votes in the particular road section where a roadmaster is appointed; he calls on all these men and makes them a promise, that if they will support him at the coming election he will appoint them roadmasters. Now these men might be good and honest, and may be very successful in their line; but when it comes to road building, they are not in it, and the candidate does not even see to it that they are road builders; all he wants is vote getters, and then his announcement comes out in the papers, etc.; and here the machine starts working, and more parts are added to it as it goes along. The following will give you an idea what the parts are: I call them job seekers; they are seeking a job, because they got sore when the man they voted against last time did not even offer them a job; maybe they got one about election time. Now these other men come flocking around the candidates, some times as many as a dozen from one road section a vote, etc., throughout the district, and these other job-seekers are given a half-way promise that they, too, stand a chance to get the roadmaster job.

"Now this job-seeker with half a promise is going to give him his vote, his family's and relations. That is what we have been putting up with for a long time. Can we not put a stop to it?

"Of course, the roadmaster system was all right years ago, when there was not half as much travel on the roads as there is today; roads were easier to keep up then than they are today; and furthermore, the roadmaster cannot do justice to the road work, when he has a ranch perhaps of his own to take care of, and he is not going to neglect his ranch to take care of the roads. When the road needs attention he is working his ranch, and therefore the road is going to pieces. When he does finally get to it, it is so far gone that it costs twice as much to keep up, and instead of having some one do it for him he waits until he is through with his ranch work, and then gets all he can out of the county for it, because that is the system the others followed and he is going to do the same thing.

"Why can we not put an expert road builder right in from the start and get something for our money? There is nothing to stop the Supervisor from letting road work out to suit himself, by contract or otherwise.

"I have now told you how the machine works and as long as the people will put up with it, we are going to waste money. We will get so far behind the times that we won't be able to catch up again. Let's now wake up and put Sonoma and Sonoma Valley on the map. Let's foster a new idea right here. It won't be long before others will follow. It's going to come sooner or later, and so let's do it now, and elect a man who will change this system and give you more for your money than you ever got before. I further want to tell you that your taxes are not going to get any lower until you adopt such a system."

Picetti then quoted figures to show the amount that had been expended from year to year and the possibilities such amounts promised if rightfully applied. He praised the idea of a taxpayers' league.

In regard to the Black Point cut-off the candidate said: "The Black Point cut-off has now been assured, after a hard struggle. Much credit is due the organizations of this community, for they worked hard to accomplish it, and a rain-storm very strong opposition. It's too bad we did not get it sooner, for it would have come in just about right during the Exposition year; but we must not stop now, as there is a whole lot to be done."

"The Black Point cut-off is going to boom Sonoma Valley and put it on the map, which is something we can't say for it at present. In order to accomplish something in this valley we should get a man who has the whole county at heart, a man who has proven it. A man who has the interests of Sonoma county at heart is going to see that the main road between here and Santa Rosa is put in just as good condition as the State highway. The northern part of the county is going to help. They will be only too glad to, as they want all the travel that will come over the Lincoln Highway and the Sacramento valley, and they cannot get it over poor roads."

Hon. J. D. Crane spoke on "The Young Man in Politics." He gave a sketch of Mr. Picetti's career and praised his public spirit in the Black Point cut-off campaign and other matters. He also told of other young men in politics and showed where they had made good, mentioning among others District Attorney Combs of Napa county and R. E. Manjell of Yuba county.

Dancing followed the rally.

THE ST. HELENA VINTAGE FESTIVAL

Plans for the St. Helena Vintage Festival, to be held September 1, 2, 3 and 4, are working out splendidly and there is no doubt that it will be the most successful yet held. The rehearsals for the vintage allegory are now in progress and will be held practically every evening from now until September 1st. All the beautiful costumes are finished and they surprise all who have seen them.

The scenery has all been painted and the finishing touches are being put on. The stage and hall are practically in readiness for the crowning of the queen and the first performance of the allegory, which two events will take place Friday afternoon, September 1st.

The parade will be better this year than ever before. In addition to a very fine float for the vintage queen the committee has decided to include two viticultural floats. One of these has already been planned. In addition to these three handsome features, the Chamber of Commerce and Woman's Improvement Club will have fine floats and several of the fraternal orders will be represented in this way. The Napa Chamber of Commerce will have a float, as will the Napa County Farm Bureau, and there is little doubt but that the representation made by Rutherford Grange will eclipse all previous efforts.

M. D. Bags Big Game

Dr. A. M. Thomson killed a fine buck on his ranch above Glen Ellen on Tuesday. Doc knows how to get a bend on 'em, all right, and if you should have asked him the first of the week what M. D. meant, he would have undoubtedly said "My Deer."

UNITED AT ALTAR OF CHURCH

Miss Kathleen Swisher becomes Bride of Raymond Poppe at Healdsburg Wednesday

One of the most attractive social events of the year, was the marriage last evening of Miss Kathleen Swisher, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Swisher, to Mr. Raymond Poppe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Poppe of Sonoma.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Smith in St. John's Catholic Church at 8:30 o'clock. Only a few relatives and intimate friends were present. Mendocino's Worldly march was played by Miss Edith Passalacqua. Mr. Henry Passalacqua sang "Oh Promise Me."

The bride looked charming in a yellow crepe interior dress trimmed in silver net. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Myrtle McNally of San Rafael. The bridesmaid wore a rose net gown and carried a bouquet of Cecil Brenner roses. Mr. Riley Swisher, brother of the bride, was best man. The church was tastefully decorated with ferns and the season's flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Poppe and the attendants were escorted to the Swisher home on Johnson street from the church where more than 100 invited guests extended their congratulations to the happy couple. (Healdsburg Tribune.)

SONOMA'S FLOAT TO BE HANDSOME

The float designed by Paul Robin for Sonoma's Native Sons and Daughters, in the Admission Day parade at Santa Rosa will be handsome. It will be a replica of the old mission, around which a real lawn will be grown. The Bear Flag pole and Bear Flag party will also be featured. Fred Hansen is already at work on the float. It will be eight feet wide and will be drawn by four horses handsomely caparisoned, alongside of which Native Sons and Daughters will march in picturesque costumes, preceded by the drum corps.

SIDE LIGHTS ON WILLIS H. BOOTH

An Interesting Interview with Regular Republican Candidate for U. S. Senator

On account of the recent State-wide conference of Republicans held in San Francisco and the endorsement by that conference of the candidacy of Willis H. Booth for U. S. Senator, public interest has been aroused as to who and what kind of a man he is. Edward F. O'Day, the well-known California writer, has taken occasion to interview Booth and our readers will find in these excerpts from O'Day's article an interesting sidelight on the man's career and record:

"He is tall and straight, of powerful build. His keen but friendly gray eyes enliven a set of fine features. He is clean-shaven, his hair is gray and his skin a healthy olive. In manner he is frank, forthright and of an attractive manly modesty. He talks well on all subjects except himself. Booth's has been a business career, but it has been informed by human feeling, so it is not humdrum, and it has been guided by high ideals, so it is not insignificant.

"Booth was born in Winnemucca Nev., in 1874. When he was five the family came to San Francisco, and Willis was raised in the Mission. Then the Booths moved to Berkeley where Willis worked his way through the high school and the university, quitting the latter in 1895, because the family was hard-up and needed his help. He went to work building machinery. All his business life Willis Booth has been a maker of machines. With his father he operated the Western Laundry Machinery Company and the American Wood working Machine Company, two concerns which are still on our business map.

"One day Willis Booth saw the finger of opportunity beckoning, and when he followed the beck he found himself in Los Angeles.

"The first time I tried to borrow five hundred dollars," says Willis Booth, "the bankers made me feel very cheap."

"His memory recorded the feeling for future consideration, and he kept on asking the Los Angeles bankers till he got the money. He used it to start another machinery business. Built on five hundred borrowed dollars that business is now known as the Smith-Booth-Usher Company, and it's the largest machinery business on the Pacific Coast.

"One day in 1907 a man came to Willis Booth and told him that he was busted. He was an electrician and he had been making electric flatirons which housewives would not buy. He wanted money to pay his debts and try something else. "It was a lot of junk," is the way Booth describes it. But the electric iron appealed to Booth as a good idea. He paid $1500 for the junk and began studying it. The first thing he discovered was why the electrician had failed—he had known all about electricity, nothing about flatirons. Booth tackled the subject of flatirons. The plant at Ontario, Cal., which turns out the Hotpoint iron, has grown from a lot of junk to the largest institution of its kind in the world. In 1907 it was a one-man concern, now it employs seven hundred, and the first employee is still there. It's a happy family sort of concern. It had the eight-hour day for women two years before the eight hour day became law. Everything that pertains to the relations of the employees to their bosses is handled by a committee of nine workmen. There is a co-operative arrangement whereby the employee gets an annual percentage of the earnings over and above his wages. The members of the office force live, work and take their recreation with the employees. The Hotpoint iron business prospers; it is the first industry in California to attain an international position.

The economic and social development of nations, the study of the relation of government to the happiness of the individual governed has been a life study with him as to the Philippines, the Orient, India, Europe and South America. The information thus gained ought to be valuable; it ought to have an important bearing on the development of the industrial relations of the United States to the rest of the world. That is one reason why a lot of people in and out of California want to see Willis Booth sent to the Senate. Among these people are certain United States Senators, his friends. They know him well because he has been to nearly every session during the past ten years. As a member of the "third house" in the interest of the San Pedro harbor, for flood control in the Imperial Valley and Panama tolls, Willis Booth has made valuable acquaintances and has accumulated useful experience. He is known in Washington as a hard worker who grinds away at the collection and presentation of facts while others are employed more showily. They like his kind around the Capitol. I might add here that Willis Booth is a member of the National Foreign Trade Council, which consists of fifty American business men. The Pacific Coast's only other representative on the council is Captain Robert Dollar.

"What sort of platform will Willis Booth have when he goes out to ask the citizens for John D. Works' toga? I judge it will be a good one from the following remark: "Less politics and more business is my slogan."

"California is the most supplicating State in the union. It needs more help than any other State. Its geographical position and its size makes it the State of countless problems. But we must be careful that while we are promoting the growth of California we are adding at the same time to national growth." "I am a staunch advocate of Republican principals and believe that not only the products of California but of this great Nation need a well-considered and scientific protective tariff for the welfare of all the people."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Riser have been down from Woodland, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lowrie at El Verano. Mrs. Riser is convalescent from a dangerous illness. She will go to Dillon's Beach while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shaw and children of Corcoran have been visiting home folks.

Lulu Wightman on Prohibition

"PROHIBITION is tyranny. It forcibly substitutes your will for mine. And it always has the dungeon and thumb-screw in mind for opponents. It is always pointing you to jails and penitentiary sentences, the boycott and the blacklist. It makes weakness the governor of strength. It substitutes jails for character. It invades the natural right of all because of the misjudgment of the few. And throughout it all, it benefits nobody!

"I am opposed to prohibition because it is decidedly un-American in character and fallacious in reasoning. It deprives the citizen of the right of choice and personal freedom for which our forefathers struggled and fought to obtain; and withal, experience in the prohibition states has taught us that it is not in a true sense a temperance movement. Temperance and sobriety, like virtue, do not come through legislation; and this sixteen states have found out, and have repudiated prohibition and substituted in its place strict regulation of the liquor industry.

"California citizens and taxpayers, however, are just now more vitally concerned as to what State-wide prohibition would do for their own State. Of all the states of the union, California can least afford to adopt constitutional prohibition. Today California's vineyard area is set forth as 346,373 acres, of which about half, or 170,000 acres, are in wine grapes. The orange acreage is only about one-third of that of the vineyard. Prohibition would not only wipe out the 170,000 acres and their values, but, according to Mr. James Madison, vice-president and manager of the California Associated Raisin Company, would so seriously affect the table grape and raisin grape as to practically destroy all profits, and make the extension of the industry impossible.

"In recent years in the United States there has been a growing tendency toward a blue-law regime. In one section it is Puritan Sunday law enforcement—Sunday baseball games and innocent amusements are tabooed; in another, moving picture censorship, or regulation of women's dress, or some sort of an Anthony Comstock mania that tries to make men good by law; and it is all born in a fanatical zeal to regulate the other fellow's life instead of one's own, to formulate a moral code for our neighbor and to refuse to be governed by the same law ourselves; it is an intolerant spirit which would determine others' pursuit of happiness or in some other way infringe upon the equal rights guaranteed by the Constitution and vouchsafed in the great American Magna Charta."

Why are the people of California crying out against high taxes? It is the costly experiments of the Johnson administration in California. There are more salaries and jobs being paid for out of our pockets than ever before. All these job chasers are pet reformers and they are now being chased to the polls to vote, for the man who made them fat with the money of the "common people" wants to be U. S. Senator. He has been feeding them up for this very purpose, but some of them are overtrained.

Why are our taxes so high? Look in the California Blue Book and see the big salaries reform is responsible for. Why are taxes so high? Look at our State institutions, how lavish they are in their expenditures. Why are taxes so high? One State highway chief is to build a $60,000 residence down in San Mateo county. No wonder the farmer squeals and every honest, thrifty average citizen has turned from reform and pretended honesty with disgust.

God has given you a brain. Christianity should have made you just. What about prohibition? Will it prohibit? What law is law but what comes from within. Would you deprive the individual strong and weak of his personal liberty because of the weak? Would you deprive thrifty citizens of their business and ruin them financially? You don't want to inflict punishment? You want to do good? Find another way, for amendments one and two are not the key to the problem you would solve any more than Carrie Nation's hatchet.

Governor Johnson, not satisfied with the honor of being Governor of the great State of California, is galavanting around trying to be U. S. Senator. The Progressive plank having fallen through, he got aboard the Republican gangway and he is trying to crowd Willis Booth off, but he won't get by, for Republicans know that Johnson is not the man that can do California any good in Washington, and they will vote for Booth because he is a dependable Republican and good citizen.

The unions' threat to vote for prohibition because the Chamber of Commerce (wet) want the open shop is a contemptible threat and makes of prohibition a still greater joke, for with these vindictive people at the back, to put it through, what chance would the law have of being upheld or observed when it did become a law? People making such threats are not respecters of law, as has been demonstrated, and law made in such a spirit is travesty.

With millions pouring into state, city and county governments from special taxes on corporations, inheritance taxes, auto taxes and others too numerous to mention, the general tax on property and industries continues to climb. Why shouldn't these added millions reduce instead of increase the general levy? Can it be that all this additional revenue is absorbed by our advanced system of government by commissions?

You are about to vote for a Supervisor. Do not do politics with your ballot. Cast it for the man you think to whom it is safest and best to entrust the wonderful possibilities of Sonoma county. Nobody bangles after all but the voter, and it is the taxpayer who suffers.

State job chasers and job holders will be at the polls in droves. Will you be there to register your protest by voting against this hypocritical bunch? Your ballot is your only hope.

The way to the man's heart is through his stomach. Unions now on strike in the restaurant line please take notice!

BOISSON TAKES FAIR BRIDE

Genial Frank of Villa Savoy Weds Miss Quinn of San Francisco

Frank Boisson, the genial proprietor of the Villa Savoy, has forsaken bachelorhood and taken Miss Adelaide Quinn of San Francisco as his bride. Miss Quinn is a handsome young lady and is popular in the bay city. Mr. Boisson is one of our leading resort men, enterprising and up to date and always ready to lend a hand for the progress of the Valley of the Moon. He comes from a fine family and is a college graduate. The happy couple are being deluged with congratulations, in which the INDEX-TRIBUNE joins.

Mother of Mrs. Serres Dies

Mrs. J. A. Serres of Alder Glen was summoned to San Francisco last Friday by the death of her mother, Mrs. Anne Emeline Riley, which occurred at the home of a daughter, Mrs. A. H. Cunningham, on the day before. Although a native of Louisiana, Mrs. Riley was a pioneer of San Francisco. She came to California with her father, the late Captain Daniel McNeil, in 1852. The funeral services were held in San Francisco last Monday.

Fine progress is being made on the new Flowery school, whose attractive exterior is looming up rapidly under the skillful direction of Contractor Gowan.

We return thanks for a choice piece of venison from "Bloss" Keechler. With trout from Joe Andrieux, venison from Sonoma mountain's crack shot and the expected consignment of fish from Port Angeles, the editor is sure living high right now.

PINELLI CONDEMNS MEXICAN POLICY

Says Wilson Has Shown Poor Judgment and Ruined Country

If there is any doubt in the minds of people here that President Wilson has bungled things in trying to make a showing of his policy in Mexico, they should talk to Mr. S. Pinelli, who has made his home in Mexico for the past twenty-six years and who does not hesitate to say that President Wilson has hurt the United States and ruined business in Mexico through his vacillating attitude.

Mr. Pinelli states that the people of the southern country are indignant at the U. S. for threatening to intervene and making a big bluff which resulted in nothing but the closing down of all the big mines, the throwing of hundreds of people out of employment and the sacrifice of many investments and small businesses by property owners who thought trouble was imminent and that Wilson meant what he said. Not only has business suffered in this way, but the internal policing of the country against the Yaquis by the Mexican army has been entirely disrupted, with the result that the bandits whom they had surrounded are now scattered throughout the country. Mexico concentrated her 80,000 troops when war with the United States was threatened, and as a result the vigilance on the Yaquis was relaxed and they are now at large to harass the people.

Mr. Pinelli states that all is quiet at his big ranch in the State of Sonora, where his brother and all his family continue to reside. He is hopeful that Charles E. Hughes will be the next president of the United States and approves of his attitude on the Mexican question.

ALL ABOARD FOR THE STATE FAIR

Sacramento, Aug. 16—Special events such as characterized the San Francisco fair will have a large part on the program of events at the State Fair, which opens September 2.

Among the several "thrillers" provided will be Joe Boquel, the French aviator, looping the loop within a loop will be one of the "aerial insanity" stunts which the daring Frenchman will do every afternoon of the fair. The pyrotechnical displays which made Art Smith so popular at the P. P. I. E. will be duplicated by Boquel, with several additional features which he has only lately mastered.

Secretary Charles Paine has just concluded negotiations for two immense locomotives which will collide within the race track enclosure at the fair grounds. Two years ago this attracted 50,000 persons. This year's engines are much larger, weighing about 100 tons each, and they will be sent speeding down the track at a mile-a-minute clip.

Lionel Eaton, son of Eloisa Pauli Raschen, was recently married in San Francisco to a young lady from Chicago, Ill. Mr. Eaton is Mrs. Raschen's son by her first marriage.

Miss Paulina Pauli of San Francisco has been the guest of her old friends, the Hahmann family, in Santa Rosa.

SIX TEACHERS FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Specialist in Agriculture and Manual Training Has Been Engaged by Board

R. J. Baker, who has been a member of the teaching staff at Lone and is a specialist in agriculture and manual training, has been engaged to teach in our High School. Mr. Baker was here last week and conferred with the school board, who are satisfied that he will extend the utility of the agricultural clubs and will be a valuable member of the faculty in the work of getting manual training under way.

The High School each year is becoming a most practical institution, whether for preparation in academic, professional or commercial life, and the equipment of the school is up to the standard. The teaching force this year will be composed of M. H. Rowell, principal; M. Tracy, R. J. Baker, Misses Hyde, Lowrie and Ames.

Presentation Convent Notes

The new Mother Superior of the Presentation Convent is Mother Xavier, a woman of culture and executive ability, who will undoubtedly give the school great impetus and prestige among the leading educational institutions of this part of the State.

Sister Ignatius, who has been indisposed, has been resting in the south, and her many friends and former pupils will be glad to hear that she is greatly improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hotz and little son Preston motored home from Pacific Grove, arriving here Friday night, after a delightful vacation. Mrs. Hotz enjoyed the invigorating ozone and spoke of the wonderful dailies which are grown in the Cypress City. Mr. Hotz was enthusiastic over the highways.

An effort is being made to open up Washington street. Mr. and Mrs. Moohan have signified their willingness to give the necessary land and the new purchasers in the Jansen tract also want the improvement to go through.

Peter Gordenker of San Francisco spent Sunday with his folks at Glen Ellen. Mr. Gordenker is a leading Socialist.

SONOMA PLAYS GRAND BALL

The Black Sox defeated the Sonoma team at Sonoma Sunday, in a game that was full of exciting incidents, by the score of 2 to 1. The Black Sox put over the winning run in the eighth inning. With two batters out Balzari hit safely past third base. He advanced to second on an error of the Sonoma first baseman and scored on Paulucci's hit past short.

Boccoli twirled a grand game for the Sonoma team, holding the Black Sox down to four hits and breezing sixteen.

Balzari heaved a swell game for the Black Sox and kept the hits secured from his delivery well scattered.

Boccoli did good stick work for the Sonoma team and rapped out two hits.

Milt Steengrafe of the Black Sox made two sensational catches in left field after hard runs.

Sturmer, the Sonoma left fielder, executed a star play when he pulled down Paulucci's drive in left field which looked good for a home run. Score: K. H. E. Black Sox.....2 4 4 Sonoma.....1 6 4 Batteries—Black Sox, Balzari and Byce; Sonoma, Boccoli and Stewart.

This was the first game of the league series for the silver cup. Santa Rosa was defeated by Healdsburg. Sonoma meets Santa Rosa tomorrow at Sebastopol.

The Northwestern depot is receiving a coat of paint. Now if we had that garden around it and good streets therefrom, it would make us feel good when the conductor called out "Sonoma."

Theo Reibli, a prominent dairyman of Penn Grove, has been in the valley on a visit to friends and relatives.

Mrs. L. L. Lewis was up to the ranch this week from Alameda, where she is making her home.

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years. To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is a food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. No alcohol in Scott's. Scott & Borne, Bloomfield, N. J.

COYOTE BOUNTY

B. Keechler shot a coyote last Thursday and got a double bounty for the pelt of the critter. Superintendent Sinclair of the Foster ranch, who is anxious to protect the sheep on his range, paid Bloss $5 and the County Clerk made out the customary warrant for the Sonoma county bounty.

George Sterling, author of the "Wine of Wizardry" and other poems, has been the guest of the Jack Londons at Glen Ellen.

All these men, labor leaders, educators, statesmen—men of great learning and large experience in world affairs—have declared themselves in favor of temperance but opposed to Prohibition.

They are not theorists, fanatics or faddists.

No one can say that they have been or can be influenced.

They have weighed the facts carefully before coming to a decision on this matter and all have decided against Prohibition.

Who opposes the opinions of these eminent men and declares them to be wrong?

first: A small band of paid reformers.

second: A number of professional politicians who advocate

Prohibition for political purposes.

third: Sincere but mistaken people who are misled by the promises and statements of the professional politicians and reformers.

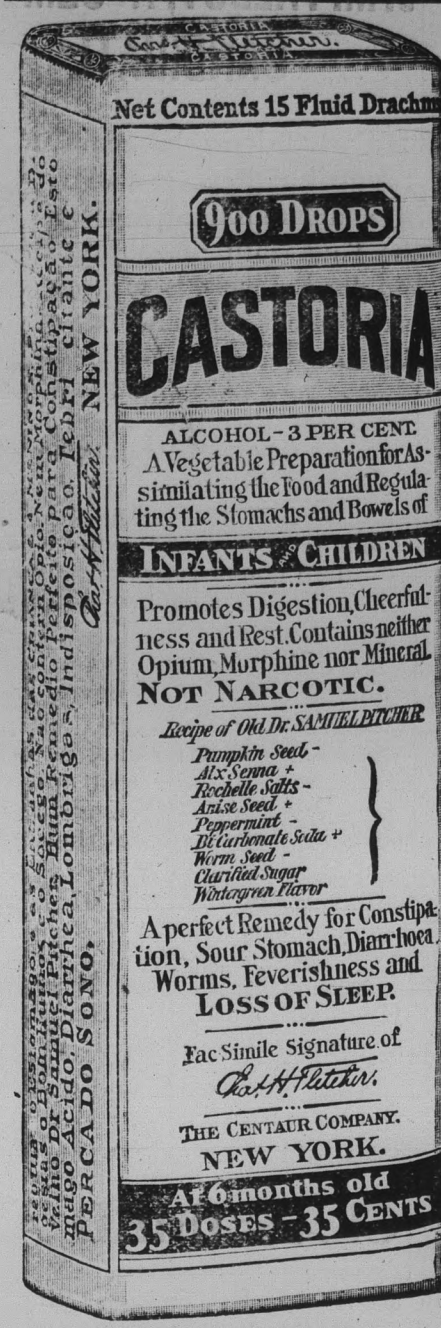

Which deserves the greater consideration—the opinion of these eminent men, or the opinion of the prohibitionist?

If you were in doubt on some other great public question would you take the unanimous advice of these men or the advice of the prohibitionists who live in your neighborhood?

If you want information regarding any special phase of the prohibition question write to us and we will gladly answer your questions

He is a man above reproach and has a reputation for square dealing and right thinking.

Mr. Talbot has never sought office before, but believes he can at this time be of constructive service in this district and he has his hat in the ring and will appreciate the support of his friends and well wishers. ## VINEBURG

Miss Helen Forni of Petaluma was a week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Forni, and returned to Petaluma on Sunday evening.

Albert and Frank Groskopf on Sunday last motored to Sacramento and inspected Sutter's Fort, the historic spot so dear to all Native Sons. The boys report a fine time in sunny Sacramento.

Theodore Rabli of Penn Grove and a well known citizen of Sonoma and Petaluma valleys, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Enrico Forni at Starlight Terrace. "Happy Teddy" will remain several days among his friends.

The downpour of rain of Sunday night last was quite a surprise, and the people who had dried fruit exposed had to move lively to cover it up to save it.

Enrico Forni and "Dutch" Vincent, two well known citizens of Vineburg, are now agents for a high class automobile, fourteen-cylinder, model 1918, guaranteed to run until it stops; gasoline consumption, three miles to the minute. Delivered for $3,180.

We understand that on last Tuesday Joe Locke, the apple king, motored to Sacramento to try to induce the Governor to introduce the delicious evaporated apples of Sonoma Valley into China. But the king was disappointed, as his excellency had an official "date" with a "progressive pear" and could not be seen. King Joe reports a fine time on the road, but the next time he goes in an auto he is going to walk "home."

On Monday evening, August 14, a birthday party was held at the cozy residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Batto, near Vineburg, the occasion being the birthday of their daughter, Miss Louise Rose Batto, a popular young lady of this section who on that day arrived at the charming age of "sweet sixteen." The young lady was the recipient of many useful and valuable presents and the congratulations of her host of friends.

The parlor, dining and living rooms were handsomely decorated with ferns, white pink and white were the prevailing colors. Delicious refreshments were served during the evening, and the guests were received by Mrs. Fred Batto, assisted by Miss Adele Andrieux and Miss Emily Batto.

The following guests enjoyed the festivities of the evening: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Batto, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hiser, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Batto, Misses Adele Andrieux, Jessie Hiser, Louise Batto, Rose Basaglia, Louise Anderson, Emily Batto, Evelyn Batto, Messrs. Al Groskopf, Henry Hiser, Frank Groskopf, Frederick Batto, Buddy Francis Batto and Herbert John Batto.
